Administrator
General Services Administration
Washington, DC 20405

October 22, 1986

Dear Mr. President:

I am submitting the Fourteenth Annual Report on Federal Advisory Committees for your consideration and transmittal to the Congress. This report reflects changes instituted by the General Services Administration to standardize the information provided by Federal agencies upon which this report is based, and to improve both its content and format. It incorporates the suggestions of the agencies which exercise control over, and provide support to, the advisory committees within their jurisdiction.

The Fourteenth Annual Report outlines the status of, and activities undertaken by, advisory committees during fiscal year 1985. It provides the basis for informing the Congress and the public with respect to the number, authority, and purpose of advisory committees; their location within the Executive Branch; and the costs necessary for their expenses. During 1985, 23,381 individuals served on 1,019 committees which provided advice and recommendations to 55 departments and agencies. Of these committees, 53 directly advised the President. Total reported costs to operate advisory committees were $77.5 million; 3,914 meetings were held; and 720 reports were issued.

This report has been prepared in accordance with Section 2 of Executive Order No. 12024 to fulfill the requirements of Section 6(c) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended (Public Law 92-463, 5 U.S.C., App.).

Respectfully,

Fourteenth Annual Report of the President for Fiscal Year 1985

Federal Advisory Committees

Advisory committees play a key role in assuring that Federal officials have access to information and advice from the public about a broad range of Federal programs. At the same time, by participating in committee deliberations, citizens from diverse backgrounds are afforded the opportunity to make contributions to the efficient and effective operation of the Government.

Through enactment of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA) in 1972, Congress acknowledged the benefits of seeking out non-Governmental sources of advice. The Congress also recognized, however, that in order to assure that the advice given to Federal officials be relevant, objective, and open to the public, a formalized process should be followed by Executive Branch departments and agencies in setting up and operating advisory committees. FACA establishes these mechanisms, provides for oversight of committee activities, and also provides for an annual report by the President to the Congress.

This Fourteenth Annual Report has been prepared in accordance with Section 2 of Executive Order 12024 and Section 6(c) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended (Public Law 92-463, 5 U.S.C., App.). It outlines the status of, and activities undertaken by, Federal advisory committees during fiscal year 1985. This is a summary of the information furnished by Federal agencies which is forwarded separately to the Congress. The report also provides a basis for identifying opportunities for improved committee management, for more effective committee activity, and for strengthened committee accountability.

Advisory Committee Activities

During fiscal year 1985, 23,381 individuals serving on 1,019 committees advised over 50 Executive Branch departments and agencies. For a comparison with fiscal year 1984, see Table I and Appendix E. Topics addressed ranged from advice on matters of national security to initiatives designed to improve delivery of Federal services. The diversity of advice that advisory committees provide can be illustrated by the classification of committees into major functional groups (Chart I).

For example, 67 committees were identified by agencies as contributing to a major national policy or program. Most of the committees in this category were established at the direction of the President and were comprised of members possessing national prominence and special credentials.

The largest number of advisory committees, 390, were the non-scientific program advisory committees which spanned virtually all agencies using committees. Scientific and technical program advisory committees numbered 259 and were most heavily concentrated in four agencies: the Department of Health and Human Services, the National Science Foundation, the Department of Commerce, and the Department of Defense.

Reviews of proposals for Federal funding of projects research, and grants involved 187 committees. The agencies making the greatest use of this type of committee were the Department of Health and Human Services, the National Science Foundation, and the National Endowment for the Arts.

A number of committees, 116, had multiple functions or otherwise did not fit into a specific group. These were listed by various agencies as having "miscellaneous" responsibilities.

Coordination of Committee Efforts

FACA requires that advisory committees render "advice or recommendations." Committees do not normally have operating authority within any Federal agency or program, unless so authorized by the Congress or by Presidential directive.

With approximately 1,000 Federal advisory committees in existence at any one time, special attention is necessary to avoid duplication of effort among committees. Committees are monitored during an annual review of committee activities and accomplishments, and are especially scrutinized when they are established or renewed.

Numerous advisory committees may have an interest in a general subject area. However, because their specific attention may be focused on one aspect of an issue or program, several committees might complement, rather than duplicate, each others' efforts. If, however, overlapping does occur, agencies take appropriate actions to redefine their committees' respective roles.

Level of Committee Activities

In fiscal year 1985, Federal advisory committees held a total of 3,914 meetings. Because both the number of committees and the number of meetings were proportional to those in fiscal year 1984, the average number of 3.8 meetings per committee remained constant.

Meetings per committee ranged from none to more than 20. Chart II shows a distribution of 133 committees reporting no meetings to 55 committees reporting over 10 meetings during the year. While the overall ratio of meetings per committee followed the pattern of recent years, the numbers of committees holding no meetings and those holding two meetings increased about 13 percent each over 1984. Committees holding a single meeting declined to about 20 percent.

Because some committees hold annual meetings and may schedule them at different times during the calendar year, it is possible that either no meetings or two meetings might be held by such committees during the fiscal year reporting period. Many committees also held no meetings if they were either terminated early or established late in the fiscal year. Committees that report holding no meetings are carefully reviewed by agencies to determine whether they are actually necessary or whether they have outlived their purpose.

Consistent with FACA's requirement that advisory committees be terminated "when they are no longer carrying out the purposes for which they were established," Federal agencies were asked in 1984 to identify those committees which they proposed to abolish during fiscal year 1985. The list of committees recommended for termination, which appeared in the last year's annual report, is found in Table II. The current status or termination dates of these committees are also shown.

Table III identifies the committees recommended by agencies for termination in fiscal year 1986. All committees not abolished as planned in fiscal year 1985 have again been recommended for termination.

Public Access to Committee Deliberations

Committee meetings are important not only to Federal agencies in the Executive Branch, but also to the public. FACA requires that, with few exceptions, "Each advisory committee meeting shall be open to the public." Committee meetings are required to be scheduled at reasonable places and times where interested members of the public may attend, and advance notice of meetings must be published in the Federal Register. Subject to the Freedom of Information Act, all papers and records of committees, including detailed minutes of each meeting, are required to be available for public inspection.

In fiscal year 1985, nearly one-half of all scheduled meetings were fully or partially closed pursuant to the exceptions permitted by FACA, which incorporates the standards in the Government in the Sunshine Act. Advisory committees which concentrate on matters related to national security account for a portion of the closed meetings. The largest percentage of closed meetings, however, occurs among committees reviewing grant applications from persons and organizations seeking Federal funding of their projects (Table IV).

Agencies are required to review continually the activities of their committees to assure that the closure of scheduled meetings is fully necessary and complies with the intent of FACA and the Government in the Sunshine Act.

Advisory Committee Costs

Federal departments and agencies reported spending a total of $77.5 million to operate advisory committees in fiscal year 1985, an increase of $6.5 million, or 9 percent over the fiscal year 1984 total of $71 million. These costs included compensation, travel and per diem expenses, Federal member and staff support costs, consulting fees, and administrative overhead (Table V and Appendix E).

Although total costs reported for 1985 were up from the previous year, reversing a downward trend that began after 1980 when committee expenditures peaked at $87 million, over half of the increase is the result of revised reporting requirements.

Agencies were asked to include in their 1985 reports the prorated costs of the benefits paid for Federal employees who provided staff support to committees. They reported a prorated Federal staff benefit cost of $3.9 million, equal to 60 percent of the total increase for the year. "Other costs" consisting of outlays for facility rental, printing, mailing, and similar miscellaneous expenses increased by $2.5 million over 1984.

Approximately one-half of all costs for advisory committees are the result of indirect expenditures for Federal staff support. Agencies typically assign full-time employees to assist, monitor, and guide the activities of their advisory committees. The portion of an employee's time dedicated to advisory committee work is therefore counted as an indirect cost of the committee.

Numerous other committee costs, however, involve direct outlays by agencies. For example, Federal agencies spent $11.5 million in fiscal year 1985 to cover the costs of travel and per diem for non-Federal members. Many committees incur little or no travel cost since members may live in close proximity to where meetings are held or pay their own travel costs.

Most Federal advisory committee members serve on a non-compensated basis, and many agencies incur little or no compensation expense. Consistent with the Administration's policy of promoting voluntarism, agencies are encouraged to recruit qualified volunteers for their committees to the extent practicable.

It is not always possible to obtain required advice without compensating committee members, particularly in those cases where serving without compensation for extended periods of time would result in hardships upon committee members. In other instances, compensation may be required for some committees created by statute. Since the needs of agencies vary considerably, compensation for committee members should be left to agency discretion when deemed necessary.

Accordingly, during fiscal year 1985, agencies spent $5.7 million for compensation.

The General Services Administration will be reexamining the provision in its interim rule on advisory committee management which generally restricts compensation except in certain instances and will be shortly seeking agency and public comment on a new proposed rule (Appendix C).

While total advisory committee costs increased in fiscal year 1985, the increase was not uniformly distributed among Federal agencies. As shown in Table VI, increases in the 1985 costs of some agencies were partially offset by the cost decreases of other agencies.

Advisory Committee Members

Federal advisory committee members are drawn from nearly every occupational group and geographical section of the United States. The FACA requires that membership be "fairly balanced in terms of the points of view represented and the functions to be performed." As a result, members of specific committees tend to possess the expertise and vocational skills that parallel the program responsibilities of their sponsoring agencies. Agencies are expected to assure that major — and sometimes strongly opposing — viewpoints are represented on advisory committees so that the advice given will be reasonably fair and comprehensive.

To obtain an occupational profile of advisory committee members, agencies are asked to assign each member a numerical occupation code (based on 100 major categories derived from the U.S. Department of Labor Dictionary of Occupational Titles) as well as an industry code. The industry code indicates one of five broad categories in the

For More Information About Federal Advisory Committees

Following this introduction, the Fourteenth Annual Report includes an alphabetical listing of committees by name as of the close of fiscal year 1985, and an alphabetical listing by agency of all Federal advisory committees which existed during all or part of fiscal year 1985. The Report also includes the names and telephone numbers of the committee management staff for each department and agency using advisory committees.

A series of appendices at the end of the Report includes the text of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended; Executive Order 12024; the General Services Administration interim rule on advisory committee management; copies of the forms completed by departments and agencies which provided the information upon which this report is based; and additional tables of advisory committee summary data (Appendix E).

No information provided by Federal agencies has been excluded from this report for reasons of national security.

Review.

SEC. 5. (a) In the exercise of its legislative review function, each standing committee of the Senate and the House of Representatives shall make a continuing review of the activities of each advisory committee under its jurisdiction to determine whether such advisory committee should be abolished or merged with any other advisory committee, whether the responsibilities of such advisory committee should be revised, and whether such advisory committee performs a necessary function not already being performed. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That this Act may be cited as the "Federal Advisory Committee Act".

Federal Advisory Committee Act.

FINDINGS AND PURPOSES

Sec. 2. (a) The Congress finds that there are numerous committees, boards, commissions, councils, and similar groups which have been established to advise officers and agencies in the executive branch of the Federal Government and that they are frequently a useful and beneficial means of furnishing expert advice, ideas, and diverse opinions to the Federal Government.

(b) The Congress further finds and declares that—

- (1) the need for many existing advisory committees has not been adequately reviewed;
- (2) new advisory committees should be established only when they are determined to be essential and their number should be kept to the minimum necessary;
- (3) advisory committees should be terminated when they are no longer carrying out the purposes for which they were established;
- (4) standards and uniform procedures should govern the establishment, operation, administration, and duration of advisory committees;
- (5) the Congress and the public should be kept informed with respect to the number, purpose, membership, activities, and cost of advisory committees; and
- (6) the function of advisory committees should be advisory only, and that all matters under their consideration should be determined, in accordance with law, by the official, agency, or officer involved.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

GSA's authority for administering the Act is contained in section 7 of the Act and Executive Order 12024, (42 FR 61445, 3 CFR, 1977 Comp., p. 158). Under Executive Order 12024, the President delegated to the Administrator of General Services all the functions vested in the President by the Act, as amended, except that of reporting annually to the Congress, and redelegated to the Administrator the responsibility for the preparation of the annual report required by section 6(c) of the Act.

Originally, the responsibility for all matters relating to advisory committees was placed in the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), which issued Circular A-63 (March 27, 1974) and A-63 Transmittal Memoranda 1, 4, and 5.

In light of GSA's experience in administering the Act, GSA is issuing this interim rule, which consolidates many features of these OMB Circulars with existing GSA reporting requirements. The rule also provides additional procedures and guidance for Federal agencies.

Prior Comments

GSA issued an advance notice of proposed rulemaking (44 FR 66852, November 21, 1979) and a notice of proposed rulemaking (45 FR 55769; August 21, 1980). As a result of the proposed rule, 23 comments were received, and all have been carefully considered in developing this interim rule.

One of the major issues raised by commenters was the extent of applicability of the Act. Some commenters believe, as a matter of general policy, that advisory groups which are not formally structured, which do not have a continuing existence, which meet to deal with specific issues, and whose meetings do not constitute an established pattern of conduct should not be covered under the Act. One commenter asserted that the case law does not preclude administrative interpretation of the Act in limiting the definition of "Advisory committee" and also limiting coverage of "ad hoc groups." Another commenter favored a specific exemption for "ad hoc groups," based on Marblestone, (The Coverage of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, 35 Federal Bar Journal, 119). These comments were received before the decision in National Resources Defense Council v. Edwards, 2 GDS ¶ 82,070 (D.D.C., 1981). This rule reflects our judgment that the exclusion of certain non-recurring meetings from the Act's coverage is fully consistent with the statute, its legislative history, and judicial interpretation. The need for this flexibility was recently recognized in National Anti-Hunger Coalition, et al. v. Executive Committee of the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, et al., Civil Action No. 82-3592 (D.D.C., Feb. 24, 1983). In wrestling with FACA's imprecise language, the court stated, "The Court's task in the absence of clear indications in the statute or its legislative history to the contrary, must be to achieve a common-sense interpretation. Congressional concerns must be accommodated in a manner that produces a constitutional result, in this instance to leave the President with substantial freedom to formulate policy recommendations free from excessive intrusion." The interim rule provides guidance on those meetings between Federal officials and non-Federal individuals which do not fall within the scope of the Act, and for which a charter and consultation with GSA is not required.

Another issue raised was whether the Act applies to committees "utilized" by agencies. One commenter contended that the proposed rule failed to distinguish committees "established" by agencies from those "utilized" by agencies. That commenter also believed that the Cox decision (Center for Auto Safety v. Cox, 580 F.2d 689 (D.C. Cir., 1978)) would make the Act inapplicable to "utilized" committees. GSA has reviewed the Cox decision and does not agree with that interpretation. Subsequent judicial precedent supports GSA's position. The interim rule does define a "utilized" committee.

In providing guidance on those groups and meetings not subject to FACA, and on utilization, GSA is in general agreement with the following recommendation of the Administrative Conference of the United States.

The most serious problems regarding the coverage of FACA have involved the applicability of the Act (a) to groups convened by agencies, on an ad hoc basis, without formal organization or structure or continuing existence, to obtain views on particular matters of immediate concern to the agency, and (b) to privately established groups whose advice is "utilized" by an agency.

a. Uncertainty as to the applicability of FACA to one-time or occasional meetings between ad hoc groups and government officials has tended to discourage useful contacts with the private sector. It is impractical to require such meetings to conform with the Act's requirements regarding chartering, advance notice, and structure of the committee. The Administrative Conference believes that the Act is not applicable to ad hoc, unstructured, noncontinuing groups and that GSA's guidelines should make this clear. Coverage of such groups would not further the purposes of the Act.

b. The conference believes that the definition of "advisory committee" is limited to committees either established by government action or affirmatively supported and "utilized" by the government through institutional arrangements which amount to the adoption of the groups as a preferred source of advice. GSA's guidelines should make this clear.

Thus, under the interim rule, the President or Federal official would "utilize" a committee when that individual recognizes, uses, or intends to use the committee as a preferred source of advice on specific, identified government policy within that individual's scope of responsibility. Such committees, although they may be informal, have an organizational structure, a stable membership and, generally, a continuing existence. They meet to present recommendations developed by that committee, as distinguished from meetings whose attendees respond as individuals.

While this interim rule provides guidance and examples of meetings with groups of individuals which are not subject to the Act, agencies are cautioned that the group can become subject to the Act if a pattern or "track record" develops whereby an agency seeks advice from the group in such a way that it becomes a preferred source of advice.

Questions were raised as to when all the requirements of the Act apply to subcommittees. One commenter suggested a clarification of the definition of subcommittee, so that the establishment of subcommittees is not used to circumvent the principles of the Act.

Another commenter, however, suggested that a subcommittee is not required to consult and charter separately if it has functions related to the functions of the parent committee, and reports to the parent committee. The Court's reasoning in National Anti-Hunger Coalition v. Executive Committee supports the latter recommendation by emphasizing that the Act's requirements apply to committees which provide advice and recommendations directly to the President or Federal official, and as opposed to the parent committee. Therefore, the requirements for consultation and chartering of subcommittees which appear in § 101-6.1007(a)(3) apply when a subcommittee functions independently of the parent committee such as reporting directly to the President or agency official rather than to the parent committee.

Another commenter, on behalf of a consortium of State and local interest groups, requested an administrative exemption from FACA coverage for State and local officials and their representatives. Although this comment has merit, GSA has concluded this exemption would require amendment of the Act.

One commenter suggests that there be a definition of "meeting" so it would be clear when an agency must comply with procedures under the Act. It is GSA's position that informal meetings or gatherings of advisory committee members in which substantive committee business is discussed are subject to the provisions of the Act. GSA recognizes the administrative difficulty in this area and has concluded that the sponsoring agency can best determine whether a specific gathering of advisory committee members constitutes an advisory committee meeting. GSA believes, however, that meetings of two or more advisory committee members convened to gather information or conduct research for the committee to analyze relevant issues and facts, or to draft option papers for consideration by the advisory committee do not constitute a meeting of the advisory committee subject to the requirements of the Act, National Anti-Hunger Coalition v. Executive Committee, supra.

Several commenters raised questions as to GSA's role in the establishment of advisory committees. Some commenters objected to the requirement for GSA concurrence before an agency head can establish, use, or renew an advisory committee under general agency authority.

We recognize the sensitive nature of this particular issue, that is, the role to be played by GSA in the establishment of an advisory committee. GSA is fully aware that an agency head, not GSA, "determines as a matter of formal record" (after consultation with the Administrator) that the establishment of an advisory committee is "in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on that agency by law."

However, GSA is responsible for "all matters relating to advisory committees" (5 U.S.C. App. I) and a meaningful rather than a pro forma consultation role is necessary to fulfill this responsibility. This conclusion is reinforced by the language in sec. 9(a)(2) of FACA, which provides that an advisory committee cannot be established until the consultation process has taken place. In the absence of specific direction in either FACA or its legislative history as to what precisely is meant by the word "consultation," it is incumbent on GSA to determine the parameters of this process.

We have concluded to follow the consultative process as it has been performed, in the beginning by OMB and then by GSA. GSA will, therefore, continue the practice of giving notification of "concurrence/nonconcurrence" in consultations received from agencies.

We do not view or interpret the words "concur/nonconcur" as implying a veto power by GSA over a determination which properly rests in the head of another agency. Rather, we interpret the word "concur" as meaning that GSA agrees the establishment of a particular committee is in accord with the terms and spirit of FACA. Conversely, a nonconcurrence would indicate GSA's opinion that the establishment of a committee is not in accord with FACA.

GSA also believes that its notification of "concurrence/nonconcurrence" to an agency head is a logical way to complete the consultation process. Such notification is GSA's means of letting the agency head know that the consultation process has been fulfilled.

In the final analysis, a nonconcurrence by GSA would not legally prevent an agency from establishing a particular committee. However, GSA in discharging its oversight function of advisory committees intends to prepare and submit periodic reports to the President, OMB, and the Congress. Our nonconcurrence in any advisory committee, therefore, would be included in these reports.

GSA also intends to watch for situations in which agencies might redefine or restructure advisory committees in such a way as to exclude them from the Act's coverage and requirements. GSA will analyze these situations to determine if an agency is elevating form over substance to disguise an advisory committee which should comply with the Act. If this is the case, GSA will recommend that such groups are chartered and operate in accordance with the Act. In situations where GSA and the sponsoring agency cannot resolve the matter, GSA will identify in future reports the groups for which a charter has been recommended and no action has been taken.

Other commenters suggest that if GSA had not replied to an agency consultation letter by the end of a specific review period, GSA concurrence would be implied. We have not included this suggestion in this rule on the grounds that it is not practical. When GSA receives an agency consultation letter, it gathers pertinent information to assess the need for the committee. Occasionally, certain information is not available or provided within a specified time period. To allow a committee to come into being without that information would not be in the public interest. This interim rule provides that GSA will respond to an agency consultation letter within 15 days, if possible.

Another commenter raised the question of the role of the OMB budget examiner in the consultation process. The budget examiner's role has been integral to the consultation process since it began. When the function was transferred to GSA, OMB continued to make available the assistance of budget examiners in the consultation process.

Several commenters objected to language requiring that agencies maintain complete documentation on their advisory committees in a single location on the basis that such a requirement was administratively excessive and unreasonable. Most of the commenters on this issue suggest that GSA's language follow the language in the Act. GSA agrees and has eased this requirement.

One commenter asked that the regulation prohibit dual and multiple committee memberships in which one person serves on more than one committee in one of more agencies. That commenter believed that such multiple memberships should be discouraged in the interest of providing access by a broader number of citizens to membership on advisory committees. GSA believes that, if necessary, agencies should deal with this issue in their own regulations and procedures.

Some commenters suggested that a definition of "Independent Presidential Advisory Committee" be included in order to make clear which Presidential advisory committees receive administrative support from the Administrator of General Services. GSA agrees with this suggestion and has included a definition of an independent PAC. The duties of the Chairperson of an independent PAC are set out separately.

Several comments were made on the organization of the proposed rule and the clarity of certain terms. For example, some suggestions were offered on alternative language to describe "balanced membership." GSA has attempted to clarify in this interim rule the guidelines for balanced membership. The rule describes balance in terms of specific function to be performed by a particular committee. This is consistent with the language of National Anti-hunger Coalition v. Executive Committee, supra.

Additional Instructions

Pursuant to section 7(d) of the Act, the Administrator after study and consultation with the Director, Office of Personnel Management, is to establish guidelines with respect to uniform fair rates of pay for comparable services for members, staffs, and consultants of advisory committees. The consultation process with OPM has taken place.

Consistent with the intent of Congress and the President to control the costs of administering advisory committees, the interim rule contains a provision which states that unless otherwise required by law, or when necessary to obtain balanced membership or a particular level of technical expertise, no member of an advisory committee shall receive compensation for his or her services. In other words, unless an exception applies, compensation shall be set at zero.

GSA believes that a sufficient number of citizens of all backgrounds and qualifications can be found to provide advice and recommendations to the Federal Government through voluntary service on advisory committees.

The interim rule does provide for the reimbursement of necessary travel expenses and per diem, as well as a mechanism where agencies may engage consultants to serve as members of advisory committees when this is necessary to acquire certain technical expertise or balanced membership that cannot be satisfied solely through the appointment of noncompensated members. However, it is the responsibility of each agency to make a good faith effort to meet its membership requirements on a noncompensated basis. GSA in its oversight responsibility will include membership information in program reports and recommendations which it prepares on Federal advisory committees. The interim regulation contains no changes to present methods used by agencies regarding compensation of consultants or staff under OPM and OMB procedures.

The rules have also been amended to reflect the change in the annual agency reporting requirements from a calendar year to a fiscal year cycle brought about by Pub. L. 97-375.

Executive Order 12291

The General Services Administration has determined that this proposed rule is not a major rule for purposes of Executive Order 12291 of February 17, 1981, because it will not result in an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more, will not cause a major increase in costs to consumers or others, and will not have significant adverse effects. The General Services Administration has based all administrative decisions on this proposed rule on adequate information concerning the need for and consequences of this proposed rule. GSA has also determined that the potential benefits to society from this proposed rule far outweigh the potential costs, has maximized the net benefits, and has chosen the alternative involving the least net cost to society.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

These regulations are not subject to the regulatory flexibility analysis or other requirements of 5 U.S.C. 603 and 604.

Effect on Other Directives

This rule replaces OMB Circular A-63 (March 27, 1974) and A-63 Transmittal Memoranda 1, 4, and 5 which have been rescinded by OMB.

Subpart 101-6.10—Federal Advisory Committee Management

§ 101-6.1001 Scope.

(a) The following regulations define the policies, establish minimum requirements, and provide guidance to agency management for the establishment, operation, administration, and duration of advisory committees subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended. Reporting requirements which keep the Congress and the public informed of the number, purpose, membership, activities, and cost of these advisory committees are also included.

(b) The Act and these regulations do not apply to advisory meetings or groups listed in § 101-6.1004.

§ 101-6.1002 Policy.

The policy to be followed by Federal departments, agencies, and commissions, consistent with the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended, is that an advisory committee shall be:

(a) Established only when it is essential to the conduct of agency business. Decision criteria would include whether committee deliberations will result in the creation, elimination, or change in regulations, guidelines, or rules affecting agency business; whether the information to be obtained is already available through another advisory committee or source within the Federal Government; whether the committee will make recommendations resulting in significant improvements in service or reductions in cost; or whether the committee recommendations will provide an important additional perspective or viewpoint impacting on agency operations;

(b) Terminated whenever the stated objectives of the committee have been accomplished; the subject matter or work of the committee has become obsolete by the passing of time or the assumption of the committee's main functions by another entity within the Federal Government; or the agency determines that the cost of operation is excessive in relation to the benefits accruing to the Federal Government;

(c) Balanced in its membership in terms of the points of view represented and the functions to be performed; and

(d) Open to the public in its meetings except in those circumstances where a closed meeting shall be determined proper and consistent with the Act.

§ 101-6.1003 Definitions.

"Administrator" means the Administrator of General Services.

"Advisory Committee" subject to the Act means any committee, board, commission, council, conference, panel, task force, or other similar group, or any subcommittee or other subgroup thereof, established by statute, or established or utilized by the President or any agency official for the purpose of obtaining advice or recommendations on issues or policies which are within the scope of his or her responsibilities.

"Agency" has the same meaning as in section 551(1) of Title 5 of the United States Code.

"Committee member" means an individual who serves by appointment on an advisory committee and has the full right and obligation to participate in the activities of the committee, including voting on committee recommendations.

"Presidential advisory committee" means any advisory committee which advised the President. It may be established by the President or by the Congress, or used by the President in the interest of obtaining advice or recommendation for the President.

"Secretariat" means the General Services Administration's Committee Management Secretariat.

"Utilized" (or used), as referenced in the definition of "Advisory Committee" of this section, means a committee or other group composed in whole or in part of other than full-time officers or employees of the Federal Government with an established existence outside the Federal Government which the President or agency official(s) adopts, such as through institutional arrangements, as a preferred source from which to obtain advice or recommendations on a specific issue or policy within the scope of his or her responsibilities in the same manner as that individual would obtain advice or recommendations from an established advisory committee.

§ 101-6.1004 What are examples of advisory meetings or groups not covered by the Act or this regulation?

(a) Any committee composed wholly of full-time officers or employees of the Federal Government;

(i) Any committee which is established to perform primarily operational as opposed to advisory functions, except that such committee may be covered by the Act if it becomes primarily advisory in nature. It is the responsibility of the administering agency to determine whether such a committee is primarily operational. If so, it would not fall under the requirements of the Act and this regulation, but would continue to be regulated under relevant laws, subject to the direction of the President and the review of the appropriate legislative committees; or

(j) Any meeting initiated by a Federal official(s) with more than one individual

§ 101-6.1013 What are the charter filing requirements?

No advisory committee may operate, meet, or take any action until its charter has been filed as follows:

Upon receiving notification of the completed review and concurrence in the committee from the Administrator, the agency head shall publish a notice in the Federal Register that the committee is being established, reestablished, or renewed, and for a new committee such notice shall also include a statement describing the nature and purpose of the committee and an affirmation that it is necessary and in the public interest.

(2) Establishment and reestablishment notices shall appear at least 15 days before the committee charter is filed, except that the Administrator may approve less than 15 days when requested for good cause by the agency head. The 15-day notice requirement does not apply to committee renewals.

(1) Discharge the responsibilities enumerated in section 8(b) of the Act;

(2) Maintain in a single location a complete set for the charters and membership lists of each of the agency's advisory committees;

(3) Maintain information on the nature, functions, and operations of each of the agency's advisory committees; and

(4) Provide information on how to obtain copies of minutes of meetings and reports of each of the agency's advisory committees.

§ 101-6.1019 What are the duties of the Designated Federal Official?

The agency head, or in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the Administrator, shall designate a full-time Federal employee to be the Designated Federal Official for the advisory committee, who shall—

(a) Attend the meetings;

(b) Adjourn the meetings when he or she determines that adjournment is in the public interest, and

(c) For agency-established advisory committees:

(1) Approve or call the meeting of the advisory committee;

(2) Approve the agenda; and

(3) Chair the meeting when so determined by the agency head.

§ 101-6.1021 How may the public participate in advisory committee meetings?

The agency head, or the chairperson of an independent Presidential advisory committee, shall ensure that—

(a) Each advisory committee meeting is held at a reasonable time and in a place reasonably accessible to the public;

(b) The meeting room size is sufficient to accommodate advisory committee members, committee or agency staff, and interested members of the public;

(c) Any member of the public is permitted to file a written statement with the advisory committee; and

(d) Any member of the public may speak at the advisory committee meeting if the agency's regulations or guidelines so permit.

§ 101-6.1023 What is the procedure for closing an advisory committee meeting?

(a) To close all or part of a meeting, a duly authorized official acting on behalf of the committee shall submit a request to the agency head, or, in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the Administrator or his delegate, at least 30 days prior to the scheduled meeting date, citing the specific provisions of the Government in the Sunshine Act (5 U.S.C. 552b) which justify the closure. The agency head, or, in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the Administrator, may waive the 30-day requirement when a lesser period of time is requested and justified by the duly authorized official or chairperson.

(b) As required by the Government in the Sunshine Act, the general counsel of the agency, or in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the General Services Administration Counsel, shall review all requests to close meetings.

(c) If the agency head, or in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the Administrator or the person to whom such authority is delegated by the agency head or Administrator, determines that the request is consistent with the Government in the Sunshine Act and the Federal Advisory Committee Act, he or she shall issue a determination that all or part of the meeting may be closed.

(d) The agency head, or the chairperson of an independent Presidential advisory committee, shall:

(1) Make a copy of the determination available to the public upon request; and

(2) Publish the meeting notice in the Federal Register, including the reasons why all or part of the meeting is closed, citing the specified exemptions used from the Government in the Sunshine Act.

§ 101-6.1025 Are minutes required at advisory committee meetings?

The agency head or, in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the chairperson, shall ensure that detailed minutes of each advisory committee are kept. The minutes must include—

- (a) Time, date, and place;
- (b) A list of the following persons who were present:
  - (1) Advisory committee members and staff;
  - (2) Agency employees; and
  - (3) Members of the public who present oral or written statements;
- (c) An estimated number of other members of the public present;
- (d) An accurate description of each matter discussed and the resolution, if any, made by the committee of such matter; and
- (e) Copies of each report or other document received or issued by the Committee.

§ 101-6.1027 How are advisory committees terminated?

Any advisory committee shall automatically terminate not later than 2 years after it is established, reestablished, or renewed, unless—

- (a) Its duration is otherwise provided in law;
- (b) It is renewed; or
- (c) The President or agency head terminates it before that time.

§ 101-6.1029 How are advisory committees renewed?

(a) Advisory committees established by the President may be renewed by appropriate action of the President and the filing of a new charter.

(b) Advisory committees specifically directed by law:

- (1) Which terminate under the provisions of section 14 of the Act may be reestablished by an agency head, provided that the agency head complies with the provisions of § 101-6.1007; or
- (2) Whose duration extends beyond 2 years shall require a new charter to be filed every 2 years after the date of enactment of the law establishing the committee. If a new charter is not filed, the committee is not terminated, but may not meet or take any action.

(c) Advisory committees authorized by law or established or used by an agency: At least 30 but not more than 60 days before the committee terminates, an agency head who intends to renew a committee shall comply with the provisions of § 101-6.1007.

§ 101-6.1031 When should an advisory committee charter be amended?

(a) Committees established by the President or specifically directed by law. When the President by Executive order or the Congress by law changes the authorizing language which has been the basis for establishing an advisory committee, the agency head or chairperson of an independent Presidential advisory committee shall—

- (1) Amend those sections of the current charter affected by the new Executive order or law; and
- (2) File the amended charter as specified in § 101-6.1013.

(b) Agency-authorized committees. The charter of an agency-authorized advisory committee may be amended when an agency head determines that the existing charter no longer accurately reflects the goals or procedures of the committee. Changes may be minor, such as revising the name of the advisory committee, or may be major dealing with the basic objectives or composition of the committee.

(1) To make a minor amendment to a committee charter, an agency head shall:

- (i) Amend the charter language as necessary, and
- (ii) File the amended charter as specified in § 101-6.1013.

(2) To make a major amendment to a committee charter, an agency head shall:

- (i) Amend the charter language as necessary,
- (ii) Submit the proposed amended charter with a letter to the Administrator requesting concurrence in the amended language and an explanation of why the changes are essential and in the public interest. The Administrator or his or her delegate will give notice to the agency head of concurrence or nonconcurrence in the request within 15 days of receipt of the request, if possible; and
- (iii) File the amended charter as specified in § 101-6.1013.

(c) Renewals. Amending any existing advisory committee charter does not constitute renewal of the committee under § 101-6.1029.

§ 101-6.1033 When should advisory committee members and staff receive compensation and expense reimbursements for committee activities?

(a) Committee members. Unless specifically required by law, agencies shall not compensate advisory committee members for their service on an advisory committee. In the exceptional case where an agency head is unable to meet the need for technical expertise or the requirement for balanced membership solely through the appointment of noncompensated members, the agency head may contract for the services of a specific consultant who may be appointed as a member of the advisory committee. In such a case, the agency head shall follow the procedures set forth in paragraph (b) of this section. This paragraph (a) shall apply to any committee member appointed after May 15, 1983. No committee member shall be compensated other than as allowed in paragraph (b) of this section after September 30, 1983.

(b) Consultants. Prior to hiring a consultant to an advisory committee, the agency head must determine that the expertise or viewpoint to be offered by the consultant is not otherwise available without cost to the agency. When an agency head hires a consultant, the compensation may not exceed the maximum rate of pay authorized by 5 U.S.C. 3109. Hiring of consultants shall be in accordance with OMB Circular A-120 and applicable statutes, regulations, and Executive Orders.

(c) Staff members. An agency may fix the pay of each advisory committee staff member at a rate of the General Schedule, General Management Schedule, or Senior Executive Service in which the Staff member's position would appropriately be placed (5 U.S.C. Chapter 51). An agency may not fix the pay of a staff member at a rate higher than the daily equivalent of the maximum rate for GS-15, unless the agency head has determined that under the General Schedule, General Management Schedule, or Senior Executive Service classification system, the staff member's position would appropriately be placed at a grade higher than GS-15. This determination must be reviewed annually by the agency head.

(1) In establishing rates of compensation, the agency head shall comply with applicable statutes, regulations, and Executive Orders.

(2) A staff member who is a Federal employee shall serve with the knowledge of the Designated Federal Official and the approval of the employee's direct supervisor. If a non-Federal employee, the staff member shall be appointed in accordance with applicable agency procedures, following consultation with the advisory committee.

(d) Travel expenses. Advisory committee members and staff members, while engaged in the performance of their duties away from their homes or regular places of business, may be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, as authorized by section 5703 of title 5, United States Code, for persons employed intermittently in the Government service.

(e) Special services. While performing advisory committee duties, an advisory committee member who is blind or deaf or who qualifies as a handicapped individual may be provided services by a personal assistant for handicapped employees if the member—

(1) Qualifies as a handicapped individual as defined by section 501 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. 794); and

(2) Does not otherwise qualify for assistance under 5 U.S.C. 3102 by reason of being an employee of an agency.

(f) Noncompensated services. Nothing in this section prevents an agency from accepting the noncompensated or reimbursed services of a member, consultant, or staff member of an advisory committee.

(g) Exclusions.—(1) Nothing in this section prevents any person who (without regard to his or her service with an advisory committee) is a full-time Federal employee from receiving compensation at the rate at which he or she otherwise would be compensated as a full-time Federal employee.

(2) Nothing in this section prevents any person who immediately before his or her service with an advisory committee was a full-time Federal employee from receiving compensation at the rate at which he or she was compensated as a full-time Federal employee.

(3) Nothing in this section affects a rate of pay or a limitation on a rate of pay that is specifically established by law or a rate of pay established under the General Schedule classification and pay system in chapter 51 and chapter 53 of title 5, United States Code.

§ 101-8.1035 What reports are required for advisory committees?

GSA will periodically issue instructions to agencies regarding reporting requirements and procedures. Included in those requirements, each agency shall file a report on a fiscal year basis providing requested program, financial, and membership information to GSA. This information shall be used by GSA for preparing program recommendations and status reports on advisory committee matters, and for assisting the President in preparing and submitting a fiscal year report to the Congress. The membership list for each advisory committee shall be updated quarterly with notification furnished to GSA of all new vacancies and appointments during the period.
